

When Lily learned to read, her mum was very pleased. She took Lily to the library and gave her a library card.

Lily was so excited. There were fat books, thin books, enormous great square books, old books, new books and furry-touchy-feely books.

Going to the library was like going on an adventure.

